

1 seems to me, that are subject to some legal interpretation
2 later on and could cause some problems. That is why I
3 think if your committee agrees if you relate it strictly 4 to duties, then I have no problem.

5 THE CHAIRMAN: Delegate Morgan.

6 DELEGATE MROGAN: Delegate Gleason, I think that 7 you rely too heavily on what the meaning of duty is. It
8 seems to me if you say that the governor can delegate
9 powers or duties to the lieutenant governor except powers
10 or duties specifically given to the governor by this 11 Constitution, why you have excluded all of the functions 12 of the governor, specifically given to the governor by the 13 Constitution. He serves on the Board of Public Works, he 14 vetoes bills, calls the General Assembly into session --
15 all of these various functions that I described earlier.

16 THE CHAIRMAN: Delegate Gleason.

17 DELEGATE GLEASON: Well, I just have to say that 18 I just have to stand on what my own interpretation and 19 analysis of this is and if we take the board of review, it
20 does seem to me that that is a duty rather than a power
21 even though it is spelled out in the Constitution and I
